

REIMBURSEMENT AT RISK?

Get ahead of CT's Quality Program

Connecticut is on the verge of implementing a new Quality Payment Program, which will link your facility's Medicaid reimbursement rates directly to your quality outcomes. While some details are still being finalized, payment impacts are imminent. This session will provide a timely update on what we know so far, including which QMs will be targeted, how they're calculated, and—most importantly—how the quality data you're reporting right now will determine your reimbursement once the program is implemented. Managing your data effectively now means positioning your facility for optimal reimbursement when the program goes live.

With reimbursement tied to quality, every improvement you make now can boost your results. Are you consistently monitoring your quality data? Are your processes keeping pace with these upcoming changes? Many facilities fall behind by waiting until payment impacts are felt—don't let that be you.

This session will help attendees:

- Understand why Connecticut is rolling out a Medicaid Quality Payment Program and what it means for you
- Get familiar with the key Quality Measures and how your facility's data is collected
- Break down how payments will be calculated based on quality outcomes
- Find out who's eligible for the program and what you'll need to report
- Pick up practical strategies to stay on top of your quality data and improve results

Join us to learn proactive strategies to keep your data sharp, your processes streamlined, and your outcomes ahead of the curve as Connecticut's program goes live!
